Question type: MCQ Single Correct Subject: Aptitude Subject: Verbal Ability

Subject: Sentence Correction

☒ Show solution

Solution 1:

Choice (1) is the correct answer. 'Finances' (plural) refers to the money available to a person, an organization or a country. This is the meaning intended in A. Similarly B must have 'assets' as it refers to the property a person owns. So the words 'finance' and 'asset' of option (A) and (B) should be changed as 'finances' and 'assets' to get the correct sentences.

Subject: Para Jumbles

☒ Show solution

Solution 1:

Logically none of the sentences B, C, D, E, F can be the first sentence because, A is independent of all other state sentences and also introduces the subject matter 'the Obamas'.

It mentions about the Obamas purchasing a new home what was the price of the home is clearly mentioned in D hence it will follow a next would be sentence E as it further explains the flow of events who bought the property which stressed was it and introduces the attorney who helped purchase it.

B is next as it tells about the trust and that it is tied to the Obamas.

Out of the rest , C seems to be the concluding statement as the unavailability of someone to comment at a matter is ideally kept at the end so F must be the preceding statement

before C. i.e FC

Hence, ADEBFC

Solution 1:

Ans. (1). There is nothing wrong with the statement.

Option (2) does not fit in the sentence as regards the connotation or the usage.

Option (3) implies that there is a limit which is not the implication of the sentence.

Option (4) implies sky to be a part of something else as only then can it be an extension.
This too is incorrect in the context of the statement.

Hence only option (1) is the correct option.
